5. Awards and selection of winning entries

- Each country will have a Country Panel to judge all entries submitted in their country: the panel will select nine country finalists (three finalist teams in each category) and their decision is final and binding. Judges will be selected from our network as well as British Council representatives and partners. There will be a particular emphasis in 2020 on identifying local business experts as mentors and judges and the judges will not be involved in the competition in any other way.
- The panel will select three Country Category Winners (one for each category) and, amongst these, one Country Champion (one for each country). A country People's Choice Winner will be selected based on public vote popularity. Amongst the seven Country People's Choice Winners, an international panel will select an International People's Choice Winner (not necessarily the team with the most popular votes overall). The panel reserves the right to move applicants from one category to another at any stage of the competition. The judges' decision is final and binding.
- Country Category Winners and Country People's Choice winners will be awarded with a package of in-kind awards, composed of marketing and business support and mentoring; Country Champions and the International People's Choice Winner will be additionally awarded with a £2,000 grant and a spot in exclusive live streamed remote start-up spirit weekend programme. Awards cannot be exchanged for money or any other goods or services; the British Council also reserves the right to reallocate awards depending on the nature of the team's business idea. Winners of the monetary award must submit a proposal showing how they will utilise the money to develop their business ideas and all expenses will be monitored by British Council teams.
- The British Council accepts no responsibility for failure to notify winning participants or failure to deliver awards where such failure results from the provision of inaccurate contact details by the participants or from the acts or omissions of any third party (including, without limitation, any internet or postal service provider) and shall have no liability to any award winner if it is prevented from or delayed in delivering any aspect of the Competition or the awards by acts, events, omissions or accidents beyond its reasonable control.
- The British Council reserves the right to amend the awards' design at any point in the Competition and does not offer any insurance in connection with the award. Each award winner should arrange their own insurance in respect of the award, if applicable.
